HAPPY NEW YEAR!!!

A Message from Chairman, John D. Myers

ONE YEAR LATER

It has now been one year (give or take a few days) since America has been under control of the most radical, irresponsible, and oppressive government in our nation's history. How did we get here? Is there hope for the future? How do we clean up the mess? If these questions have not already been on your mind, then you have been residing in Fantasy Land. To quote another famous radical, Eldridge Cleaver, "If you are not a part of the solution, then you are a part of the problem."

A few weeks ago, I was having a conversation with an acquaintance of mine who I have known for around fifty years. Let's call him Leroy. So why not call him a friend if I've known him that long. Well, to be honest, I have no one who I call a friend who is a bleeding-heart liberal, except for my siblings. In my opinion (which if you have read this column before, you know by now I am not stingy about sharing my opinions), a person's politics reflects their values, and I don't have friends who don't share my values. The only interest I share with this acquaintance is we both are long time Corvette enthusiasts. Now I don't consider Leroy especially smart, and that has nothing to do with his lack of higher education. There are many people who never set foot on a college campus who I consider smarter than some who hold PhD's.

Leroy knows that I am a committed conservative and an active Republican. Although we have agreed long ago not to discuss politics because we will never agree on anything, sometimes he simply cannot resist the temptation to bring it up when he feels he has an issue to make the Right look bad. Leroy should know better by now than to debate politics with me! He brought up the interrogation of Mark Meadows regarding January 6, 2021, he brought up President Trump's tax returns, and he brought up how well our current Moron-in-Chief is doing, and said how COVID-19 will be over as soon as vaccination mandates and masks are made mandatory. And of course, he brought up West Virginia Senator Joe Manchin announcing that he would not support Biden's $1.7 Trillion Build Back Better bill. Now I know you think I am far too polite to call someone an idiot to their face, but you would be wrong. I not only do it, but feel better in the process.

Matt Walsh
@MattWalshBlog

Leftist activists can come to your house with bullhorns. Film you in the bathroom. Loot your business. Burn police stations. The FBI does nothing.

But if conservative parents raise their voices at a school board meeting, they're hunted down as terrorists.

The law is dead.

As if that were not enough, Leroy went on to say how we people on the Right are getting hoodwinked by FOX News. Now get this. A guy who swears out that MSNBC is the best, most accurate and the most 'fair' news station on the planet, is complaining about bias on FOX. The problem with having discussions like these with an imbecile is that they lack the intellect to determine when they have been proven wrong by facts. Facts are only relevant if they support their side of an argument, which rarely ever happens. So, I asked Leroy what Article or Amendment in the Constitution gives the President or Congress the authority to have a nationwide mandate on vaccinations. I asked him what powers Congress has according to the Constitution to have such inquiries, as the ones held concerning January 6. I asked him what Trump's tax returns had to do with.... well, anything. I asked him what Biden had done to protect our freedoms, our borders, our national security, and our energy dependence. I also asked him why he thought he knew better what was good for West Virginia than its residents

Needless to say, Leroy had no answers to those Constitution related questions. Of course, all the nation's problems will be resolved following the publication of the Trump tax returns. On the questions regarding what Biden has done in respect to our freedoms, borders, national security, and energy dependence, you would have thought someone at MSNBC is hypnotizing people over the airways in order for them to be so ill informed. And finally, he responded to question on Joe Manchin, Democratic Senator from West Virginia. In his usual parroting of the MSNBC propaganda, he stated that Manchin betrayed the people in his own state because the BBB bill would help them. After explaining to Leroy that several polls showed that the good citizens of West Virginia overwhelmingly support Joe Manchin's opposition to the bill, he still thought that Biden knew better what was good for WV residents than they did. Of course, to him, the fact that Manchin is a Democratic Senator in a very red state is irrelevant. I also added that if he thinks Biden is doing a great job, he is surely a fool.

Are YOU a Corruption Denier?

Do you believe everything the gov-media-ph@rma complex tells you without thinking?
Do alternative viewpoints make you angry?
Do you lash out angrily if someone raises the possibility you've been duped by authorities?
Do you often dismiss new information as "conspiracy theory" to feel better about your familiar worldview?

If so, you may be a corruption denier.

Please consult your nearest "conspiracy theorist" for instruction on de-programming.

So, what does all of this have to do with those questions posed in my opening paragraph? Well, Leroy is not a rare bird. He is typical of Democrats! It is far too late to convince Leroy, and other older Americans to use their grey matter. He and his liberal contemporaries are a lost cause. Most liberals think like Leroy, are slaves to one or more Left-Wing media outlets, are unaware of any facts and have no clue what liberty is all about. They have absolutely no loyalty to God and country. They don't believe in accountability, personal responsibility, or self-determination, and feel that the federal government should be all-powerful. In my mind, they rank right up there with raw sewage.

Unfortunately, Leroy's vote, and all the other bleeding heart, ill-informed liberal's votes, count the same as ours. It is far easier to spread ignorance than it is to educate people. It is the 'Leroys' of this country that got us to where we are. If there is hope for the future, and to clean up the mess, we need to reduce the number of 'Leroys' in the future by educating our children. Leroy did not get stupid all by himself. He had a lot of help along the way including ill-informed parents, indoctrination in the schools, and a news media, of which the ownership is 95% made up by extremely liberal people. The reporters and commentators reflect the views of their owners. Children must be educated in a way that they can decipher facts from fiction. If we do not change how we get our word out to young people, they will grow up to be future 'Leroys'. If we don't act, every "One Year Later" will be another worse year.

John D. Myers,

We won't know if this will be a Happy New Year until after the November, 2022 election. Let's make it happen!

Redistricting

The maps have been finalized. Goochland County will have some new representation:

- Congress – All of Goochland County will be in the 5th Congressional District. Our congressman is still Abigail Spanberger until January 1, 2023. The election is November 1, 2022.
- VA Senate – All of Goochland County will be in the new Senate District 10. Our Senator is still Mark Peake until January 1, 2024. The election is November 7, 2023 (same as all Goochland County local elections).
- VA House – Goochland County will continue to be split between two House Districts, but different districts – 56 and 57. You will keep either John McGuire (HD-56) or Lee Ware (HD-65) until January 1, 2024. The election is November 7, 2023.

Quick Guide:

	Old	New	Election Day
Congress	7th CD	5th CD	November 1, 2022
VA Senate	SD22	SD10	November 7, 2023
VA House	HD56 & HD65	HD56 & HD57	November 7, 2023

Election Officials Wanted!

Per Virginia code, each political party nominates Election Officials. Code 24.2-115 says "If practicable, officers shall be appointed from lists of nominations filed by the political parties entitled to appointments. The party shall file its nominations with the secretary of the electoral board at least 10 days before February 1st each year."

Chairman Myers is in the process of contacting all Election officials who worked in 2021 to confirm they want to continue to serve as Republican representatives.

But if you are interested in serving as an Election official in Goochland County, please contact John Myers at chemist44@centurylink.net and also ec@goochland.gop NO LATER THAN JANUARY 10, 2022. We need to continue the great momentum from last year!

"Safety First" Veil a "Flu" Preventive

THE old adage "It is an ill wind that blows no one good" may be aptly applied at the present time in the case of the Spanish influenza epidemic, for manufacturers of veils who were quick to see the advantages of the chiffon veil as a preventive, are reaping a just harvest.

The first of this kind to be advertised for the purpose was called the "Flu" veil. This was a mesh veil with a chiffon border, in harem effect, of from 3½ to 4½ inches in width. Some women objected to it and the all-chiffon veil as being too warm and unsightly, so it remained for Stern & Stern to design one which would be both practical and ornamental, which they called the "Safety First" veil. It is of Shetland mesh with a hemstitched section of chiffon at the lower edge of the front about 5 inches wide, just covering the mouth and nose.

Many novel and bizarre effects may be evolved from various combinations of colors as well as from variations in shape of the chiffon section. Judging from the orders coming in, it is safe to predict that it will remain one of the style features of the season.

Virginia State Teachers' Association.
Wise, Va., Sept. 29.—To the Teachers of Wise County: As your official, I take this method of giving you a short communication.
This is the most critical time in the history of the commonwealth, both for the teachers and the state. The schools of the state are short just 3,000 teachers. About 6,000 teachers in the state are very materially under paid—many of them clearing less per month than will buy one pair of good shoes. The teachers themselves can remedy this situation and it will never be better until the teachers make it better. Other workers are organized, are asking more, and are receiving a living wage. Teachers of Virginia are not organized as they should be and are not in a position to demand a creditable salary.

Six Business Houses Burn Down, Causing Heavy Loss.
One of the most destructive fires that ever visited Appalachia swept the main business part of town on last Sunday night at 12 o'clock burning down six business houses and severely damaging the front of the Windsor Hotel and City Meat Market just across the street from where the fire started. The loss is heavy and it is said very little insurance was carried on any of the buildings or their contents.

CHARGE OF BRIBERY.
Foster charged that Chisholm, of Fluvanna had accepted a bribe of $20 for 30 votes and that he himself had paid him $2 for a vote.
Chisholm indignantly denied it and in his speech pointed at Dr. Points and said that gentleman had offered him money for the 30 votes of Goochland and Fluvanna. The wildest excitement followed, Dr. P. trying to speak.
Wesley Elliott—Chisholm tell 'em some more about it.
Points explained that he had early in the day heard that our Funder brethren were using money in the convention to influence members and he at once industriously set to work to use money on his side.
Chisholm—You offered me more money than any other man and I didn't take it.
Dr. Points went on to explain that Chisholm had written him a note saying, "You must stand by me as to what I said, I shall cast the full vote as I told you."
Chisholm said this referred to his voting for Lewis for chairman.
Dr. Points said it was after Lewis was chosen.
During all this scene the wildest yelling and confusion prevailed.
The roll had been called on a motion to adjourn—had resulted 75 noes to 37 ayes, and the vote was not announced as Chisholm's vote was under consideration as to its rejection on the ground of corruption.

When doctors and nurses are quitting their jobs over a medical mandate, it's time to realize that something is seriously wrong.

Joe Manchin will never be a Republican

VICE CHAIR BUDDY BISHOP

From what I'm seeing, Senator Joe Manchin (D-WV) has been busy doing the work that certain DWECs are leaving un-done.

If you don't know what a DWEC is, see pages 7-8 of the August 2020 edition of the GCRC Patriots Voice Newsletter.

Manchin is the proverbial finger in the Dike. He is essentially the last line in place that is keeping the country from being permanently ruined.

On January 6th, 2020, I wrote the "Obituary of the American Republic". I shared it with a few people but did not post it anywhere. As I see it, there are two things that currently keep it from being published:

- Passage of the "Build (socialist control) Back Better" plan.
- Passage of democrat proposed voting rights (for the illegitimate) legislation.

Joe Manchin effectively kept the "Build Back Better" insanity plan from getting out of the Senate in 2021.

Joe Manchin, by not supporting the nuclear option, has currently stopped the federalization of elections.

So, the democrats are setting their sights on resuming these and other horrible things after the mid-terms. The only problem I see with that is no real fixes have been put in place to repair our damaged election system. What has occurred, and been done in some areas, doesn't look to me as broad enough to curtail targeted and successful cheat strategies designed to ensure a democrat win.

And, we are seeing two varieties of dissent from the left. One is the view that the Branden administration is feckless and feeble and hasn't gone far enough. The other is the unknown number of voting leftists who are beginning to see that the socialist and destructive policies in play are simply not as good of an idea as they had assumed. It's amazing. The highest inflation rate since WWII, defunding police, a decimated workforce, open borders coupled with hypocritical vaccination policies, etc., etc., has angered subsets on the left for different reasons.

And then there is Joe Manchin. He could have helped solve this problem a lot earlier by simply switching parties and changing the critical balance of power. After all, his state voted for Trump by a significant margin. Instead, he has only eyed switching to "independent" and yet still caucusing with democrats. I'm sure he knows that he has less in common with the Republic hating socialists that define his party than he does with his own West Virginia constituency. Unfortunately, he's not a Zell Miller. But he is a pro-life, bipartisan, anti-China, budget-balancing, pro-gun rights, anti-illegal immigration, pro-family, quasi-fair elections politician, and has been one since at least 2001.

Even so, Joe Manchin could never be a Republican. Why? Because he is a real and genuine tax the rich and redistribute it Democrat; and likely the very last one you'll ever see.
